

Dear FCC,

As a citizen and state employee I strongly, emphatically, implore that you do not relax the No Call Policy in place. Prior to this regulation being implemented I was continuously interrupted at home by multiple telemarketing calls - my meals, my family time, my personal-private time was being callously interrupted by businesses I had no interest in talking to. When it really gets down to it - what right do they have to call me at my home to try to sell me something I don't want. In essence, this is harassment and it should not be tolerated.

Patrick